JACK CLARK ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR AUDITOR

RALEIGH, N.C. – Jack Clark, CPA, announced his candidacy for State Auditor. Clark will seek the Republican Nomination in the 2024 Election.

Clark released the following statement:

“The State Auditor’s office has been plagued with controversy and scandal. An auditor is supposed to serve their constituents with honesty, integrity, and accountability – one that can handle the task at hand of ensuring their tax dollars are being used efficiently and effectively.

In 2024, we have a chance to drive the auditor’s office away from embarrassment and shame. I’m announcing my candidacy for State Auditor to provide the integrity, experience, and common sense our citizens deserve.

As the only announced CPA seeking the Republican nomination for State Auditor, I am the most qualified to get to work on day one. I look forward to traveling across this state in the coming months to convince the voters we can do better for Auditor.”

Clark earned a B.S. in Economics from Duke University and a Master of Accounting from UNC-Chapel Hill. He has worked in external and internal auditing in the private sector before transitioning to budget policy in the public sector. He and his wife, Nicole, live in Wake County and attend Vintage Church in Raleigh.
